These are notes Margi takes, when possible, outlining each chat. The counter time usually refers to when DHC actually begins the chat, not always the exact time on the video timer.

Mon. Dec 03, 2018 ~ BTB 2018 Chat #10

- 00:00 Welcome to Chat 10 of Building the Bones. Just finished Module 4 of HipHarp Toolkit, which is on vamps. A powerful tool to ultilize for improvisation.
- 1:15 Last week DHC made a challenge to create 100 vamps on Silent Night. Wants to continue the challenge by creating a few vamps then brining on others to do a vamp.
- 2:05 Informs class about 3 training sessions available in Academy; Playing the Shapes of Music, Instant 3-Part Arrangement Formula, and Left-Hand Liberation.
- 5:45 DHC wants to play some vamps on Silent Night and have class describe what she's doing.
- 7:15 DEMO DHC plays her first vamp. Uses pedal tone on A minor chord where she altrnates between 1,5,10,5 and 1,6,11,6
- 9:50 Talks about how she leaves one thing the same in the vamp but is moving another.
- 11:15 DEMO Shows how to get from vamp into a position to get back to the tune.
- 13:45 DEMO Plays first vamp again and encourages class to play along.
- 14:45 Explanation of what happens harmonically in first vamp.
- 21:30 DEMO DHC plays a 2nd vamp using a slap bass and 1,6,2,5 progression.
- 24:30 Has class play along with 2nd vamp.
- 25:40 DEMO Getting back from 2nd vamp to the tune.
- 27:00 Explanation of why a G7 was used to transition from vamp to tune.
- 30:30 DEMO Using G flat 9
- 32:00 Asks for volunteers to come on camera
- 35:00 Sally comes on camera. Plays a vamp that is set up using a loop pedal. DHC gives instruction on ways to come out of loop back to tune.
- 44:00 Sharon comes on camera. Plays a vamp that has a Blues/Boogie feel.
- 48:00 DEMO DHC expands on ways to expand a Blue/Boogie type vamp and ways to get back to tune. Also shows that one can alternate LH and RH.
- 53:45 Class takeaways from the session and what they could put into practice immediately.
- 1:00:00 Goodbyes.

Don't worry, it will get to you through hearing about it over and over. 15:54:22 From Anne Horton : Because the 2nd one is using notes from the D chord 15:54:40 From Anne Horton : D minor chord I mean From Anne Horton : Which also happen to be the same notes from the G (dominant) if you are in C major 15:55:04 15:56:18 From mizwing54 : Hey! I'm getting the magick thing... From Anne Horton : That totally makes sense when you say "it is the 2 of the 5" because the relative 15:56:37 minor is 3 notes below its major 15:57:59 From Anne Horton : 11-6-2-5 From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : Kind of like cryptology... 15:58:08 From Anne Horton : 1-6-2-5 Chord progression 15:58:20 From Anne Horton : (That was your tangent by the way ;) 15:58:49 15:59:48 From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : The vamp was 4/4 and Silent Night was 6/8? 16:00:33 From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : It sounded nice! 16:01:08 From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : G7 chord? 16:01:10 From Anne Horton : Paused 16:01:45 From Anne Horton : Transition 16:01:51 From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : The other went to minor, this one stayed Major 16:02:16 From Anne Horton : Transition ? 16:02:25 From Dilys : It sounds nice to play the f just before getting to g for the melody 16:02:38 From Vera : a suspending feeling on the 7th 16:03:02 From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : Yes, creates anticipation 16:05:33 From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : Oooh! That was pretty! 16:05:45 From Vera : a transition is more inter3sting and catching the ear 16:07:01 From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : Cool 16:07:28 From Alicia : for silent night or just anything? From Sally Walstrum : I looped something but not sure how to get out of it 16:07:41 16:07:57 From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : I was experimenting with a blues/boogie kind of vamp From Anne Horton : Sorry to be still hanging on to what you previously (just) said - "when you're in C you 16:09:56 can throw a flat on the A' but you were talking about making the G flat (and calling it a G flat 9) ... so what am I missing? 16:10:27 From Anne Horton : Wow - I just realised how much I count on being able to SEE your hands 16:10:52 From Anne Horton : Changed the rhythm 16:11:08 From Vera : don't know, but it as sudden 16:11:56 From Anne Horton : Did her 4th note become the 1st note 16:12:10 From Anne Horton : ? 16:13:25 From Vera : arpeggiating the last chord? 16:14:24 From Alicia : Anne, dominant of C is G. You can mess with the dominant . The 9th note on G is A and that is the note you are flattening = flat 9 the 9 being the A 16:14:27 From Alicia : dioes that make sence 16:14:40 From Dilys : hate to admit it, but don't know what a looper is 16:16:03 From Anne Horton : Thank you Alicia! Yes!! That is a great explanation and makes it clear for me - thanks so much :) 16:16:31 From Jill Bosworth : nice !!! From Alicia : yes please looper lesson! 16:17:09 16:17:58 From Alicia : wohooo Sally!!! 16:18:05 From Alicia : love that loop and rhythm 16:18:15 From Jill Bosworth : Sally, love it. Wish I had a looper! From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : SURE 16:18:56 From Anne Horton : The day you decide to do a Looper course is the day I buy a looper ;) 16:19:01 From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : Oops, sorry about caps 16:19:06 16:19:46 From Jill Bosworth : Anne, yes, me too. - 16:27:49
 From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : yes, that would be doable to trade between L and R hand\

 16:28:13
 From Anne Horton : Why do you need to flat the 7? (I know the simple answer is because it sound better)
- the 7 is part of the dominant chord which you play around with?
- 16:28:14 From Alicia : I don't have one for silent night
- 16:29:05 From Dilys : I am loving seeing you rh noodling. Is there by chance a hack video on how to do noodling?
- 16:29:30 From barbara : What I got from last time and ones before is that you can pretty much do whatever you want as long as you find a way to get back to Silent Night, like slowing down, doing a glass, whatever...just try it.
- 16:29:50 From Debra Sawyer : Various mood changes from vamp back to tune
- 16:30:13 From Jill Bosworth : great explorations. you all almost ALMOST make this piece interesting. in fact, you do!
- 16:30:15 From Sharon Brennan aka 'Ann Phillips on FB : Many options for transitioning to the vamp, creating vamp itself, changing rhythms and transitioning back to the original tune.
- 16:30:18 From Anne Horton : Thank you that makes sense
- 16:30:27 From Bina : Love the first vamp 1 5 10 9 5 changing do 1 6 ... and so on... is simple and so effective ... end looper with gliss :-)
- 16:30:39 From Alicia : I love the change to the bluesy one and i realise how much I love the contrast of style with the vamp. Also to continue to experiment with messing around with dominant. I love the bluesy style at end!
- 16:30:48 From Vera : a serious push into vamp creation, different tempi and chords 7ths, plus the variations topping the vamping
- 16:30:53 From Dilys : that would be fabulous
- 16:30:59 From barbara : Yes, you can represent the blues, or whatever, by modulating or using a fake modulation to change back or move forward.
- 16:31:29 From mizwing54 : I don't have words for what I've learned...but I feel like I'm sneaking up on something that's related to my old guitar folk-music noodling and how to use some different bass lines to change-up things, and alternating hands! That's a helpful thing to remember.
- 16:32:08 From Jill Bosworth : The Gift ok!
- 16:33:04 From Jill Bosworth : Thanks, Margi!
- 16:34:07 From Jill Bosworth : Margi, was that for Dylis!
